

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

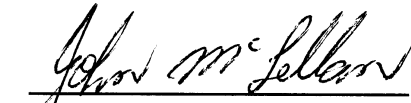

J & S Drilling recognises the need to protect the environment in order to allow sustained economic development for the long-term benefit of the community.

The company is committed to ensuring that environmental responsibility is incorporated as part of their normal business practice.

It is the duty of all employees to exercise care in their work to ensure this commitment is achieved. Therefore, all employees and contractors must make themselves aware of the requirements listed below;

- Client requests, with regard to the treatment of sites and leases, must be taken into account prior to the commencement of operations,
- Whilst on site, vehicles and equipment are only to be driven on designated roads, unless alternate arrangements have been authorised by the client,
- Areas of undisturbed bush and environmentally sensitive areas are only to be accessed with the consent of the senior client representative,
- All waste goods, food, tyres and broken equipment are to be disposed of properly, at a designated waste facility.
- The use of chemicals, salt water and any other fluids or effluent must be controlled in the correct manner. This particularly applies to the containment and clean-up of any fuels, oils, greases or chemical substances that may contaminate any area of ground or waterways,
- All legislative requirements must be fully complied with and updates or changes in the Act and Regulations must be communicated to all employees, and
- On completion of each drilling program, the disturbed area is to be left clean and tidy, as close as possible to its original condition.
